

NEW AND ACCURATE FARRIERY

BOOK

In which is contained above One hundred and Twenty Reciepts, for the Cure of all Distempers most incident to Horses, Beasts, and Swine, having been above 68 Years experienced by the Author; who at the Request of his Friends, and for the Good of his Countrymen, hath published the same.

By Robert Julian, of Brant-Broughton, in Lincolnshire.

Printed by Wm. Wood, at the Printing-Office in Lincoln.

To the friend'y READER.

WHEREAS, It is a great Curiosity and Art in Mankind, to find out the Nature and Cure of the divers Kinds of Distempers in these Sorts of Cattle, I have here incerted in this my short, but full Account of my following Reciepts, which does treat of Horses, Beasts, and Swine; being commonly the most frequent Distempers, incident to these Cattle in our Time. For I myself have experienced the very most of these Distempers; and from my Youth upwards, what few there are I have not experienced, I have recieved of some Friends who have experienc'd them; and now I being 75 Years old, and cannot expect to live many Days, have out of my good Will to my Countrymen, published this small Treatise before I dye, for the general good. If it please God I live a few Days longer, I hope I shall hear of the Benefit this small Treatise has done them in some Kind or other; the Reciepts are good if rightly managed, full, and plain, although short: where you want to know of divers Distempers, how they begin, and by what Signs, where is wanting, is incerted unto each proper Reciept, where People may be Strangers, being dedicated to you my Countrymen, from

Your Friend, and Servant,

46. 12. 17. 888

Robert Julian.

To

To cure Distempers which are incident to HORSES, &c.To cure a Horse that has a Fistula.

When swell'd and not broke or corrupted take Train Oyl Stricklebag oyl, each a like quantity mixed together, bath it on the grieved Place as hot as you can with your Hand, put on a Cloth to keep it warm; if it be broke then take a convenient hot Iron and run it thro' the Swelling between the Skin and Flesh, when done take the aforesaid Oyls boiling hot and pour it into the Wound if you cannot get both Train Oyl will do.

To cure a Horse that has the Feltrick which is known by swelling under the Belly.

Take your Fleshes and strike them into the swelling 20 or 30
 Times as Need requires, take an old Pot or Pan and put in two Quarts of Chamberlye as much Pilgrim's Salve as will make it stiff as hasty Pudding, do it boiling bat on with a broad Stick Lat Fashion, rub it on hard, if there be Occasion scrape off the old next Day and apply fresh as before.

To cure a Horse that has got a dry Cough by Cold.

Take Moss that grows on an Oak Tree two Handfuls, boil it in a Quart of Milk well then strain it out and give it warm as he can abide it, then take him and ride him to a Market or any other Place 5 or 6 Miles keeping him warm, next Day take brimstone Liquorish Powders each half an Ounce, make these into Balls with Honey and give him them, keeping him or her warm.

To cure a Horse that has got a Stroke, Lash or Bite on the Eye, or a Horse that is naturally going blind it will prevent it for a Time, for either Fair or Market.

Take Juniper Berries beat very fine, and put a little into a sear Tobacco pipe, and blow into the Eye, holding your Hand lightly on it a little while.

To cure a Horse that is split in the Shoulder.

Take Vitriol, Spike and Turpentine Oyls each three Drachms mixed together just when you use it, then chafe it well in between the Shoulder and the Neck.

To cure a Horse that is strained in the Coffin Joint.

Take Oyls of Exceter, Peter, Worms and Turpentine the Value of all four pennyworth, chafe it on well and heat it with a hot Iron, pare him on the Sole of the Foot very thin then blood him very well in the Toe Vain and let him rest a few Days after.

To cure a Horse that is crush'd by a Saddle or other Means.

Take blue Clay, Vinegar, make it into a Pulvis spread it on strong brown Paper, and lay it on the grieved Place, set on the Saddle if it be in the Saddle Place, or another Place cover it warm with a Cloth.

To cure a Horse that has the Canker in his Mouth, Nostrils or outward.

Take Roach Allom and Vitriol each a like Quantity, put into Spring Water and dissolve it, rub the grieved with it till cured.

To cure a Horse that is strained in the Huggins.

Take the Oyls of Vidol, Spike, Turpentine, Peter, Exceter, Linseed each an equal Quantity mixt together, chafe it well in then heat it with a hot Iron.

Another for the same.

Take two hair Rowels, and make Rowel Holes, a little distant from one another, underneath the Whirlbone, anoint the Rowels with Oyl of Turpentine now and then.

To cure a Horse that is galled in any Part of the Body.

Take the best Soap half a Pound, Brandy half a Gill, Gunpowder two Ounces, Elder Leaves two handfulls, Tar 2 pen-n'orth, boil all in 2 Quarts of Chamberlye bath is boiling hot.

(5)

To cure a Horse that is flak'd.

Take Vinegar and Butter and boil them, pouring it into the Wound. boiling hot, first clean the Wound.

To cure a Horse that has a Blood Spavin.

Take up the Vain about Handful above the Spavin and tie the Vain the upper Part with a Thred, then cut below, take Horse Tirpentine, black Soap, Brandy, mixt together, chafe them well in with your Hand.

To cure a Horse that has got a Stroke by an ascher.

Take Crown Soap two Ounces, best Brandy a quarter of a Gill, boil them gently on a clear Fire in a melting Pan, untill an half be wasted, then have a Stick ready made flat like to a Lat, and chafe it well on the grieved Place still keeping it hot, when done have a hot Iron ready, and heat it well in.

To cure a Horse that has the Worms.

Take Cream of Tarter, Roach Allom, Flower of Brimstone, Liquorsfh, Diapent, each half an Ounce, what is not powder d must be put into a Pint of Beer well mixt and give it warm you must give this at twice in a Morning.

To cure a Horse that has the Bots.

Take green Box, Savin, each a Handfull, seven Slips of bear-foot, boyl them in a Quart of Ale, stram out the Herbs, give the Liquor warm in a Morning fasting.

To cure a Horse that is foul on his Body.

Take Flower of brimstone, Diapent each an Ounce, Fenegrek long Pepper, and grain one Ounce, briana half an Ounce, boyl these in a Quart of beer give warm, then cover him with a cloth.

To cure a Horse that is itchy in the back Skin.

Take

(6)

Take of Trotter, Peter, Vitriol, and Spike Oyle, each 1 ounce brandy one Ounce, Linseed Oyl half an Ounce, clean his Leg, and let it be dry, mix all these together and chafe it well in,
keep him in your Hand for it will make him very angry.

Another for the same.

Take bolcarmonick, Wheat Flower, each a like Quantity the White of one Egg, as much best brandy as will with well beating make them into a thin Pultise, then take Flax Hards well soaked and lay on a Peice of Cloth that may reach round the Leg two or three Times, spread the Pultis on the Hards and bind it indifferent fast to his Leg with a List or some other soft thing his Leg must be clean and dry, in two Days Time untie the Pul-tise and moisten it again with more brandy and he will be well.
Fast of all clip away the Hair above the Tuft.

For a Horse that hath got a Strain in the Fetlock Joint.
the Cure.

Take the Oyls of Dill, Swallows, Worms, and Peter each an Ounce, mix these together and chafe well in; keep him out of the dirt 2 or 3 Hours.

To cure a Horse that hath got a swing in the Back

Take white Pitch, bolcarmonick, brandy, Linseed Oyl, and Horse Turpentine, melt all those together in a melting Pan, dip in some wool, and lay to the grieved Place pretty hot, you may if you please clip away the Hair just on the Spot where it is hurt.

To cure a Horse that hath got a Stab with a Fork,

Take Goose Grease and black Pepper knockt, mixt together put it into the Wound with some Flax Hards, dress once or twice a Day with fresh & Need requires.

To cure a Horse that hath a Ringbone.

Cast him and fasten his Leggs then take a blacksmith's Poker, hot

hot run it in at one End untill it comes at the other End, but not quite through, after that take another sharp Iron red hot, cut it three Times over cross, then tear open the skin with the Poker, take Oxacrosy and pour it in boiling hot, lay on some Flax hards, lapt up with a linnen Cloth for five Days, then take Verdigrease and Honey made into an Ointment, put it into the Wound, bind it up again, dress as Occasion requires.

To cure a Horse that has the Scab

You must give him this following Drink, take brimstone Liquoris Powder, Gumbouge, each an Ounce, Antimony 2 Ounces in a Quart of Ale warm.

Then take Willow weed two Handfuls stamp and strain'd into two Quarts of Chamberly, black Helebore powdered 1 ounce green Stamp and strain it also into the Chamberly, Gunpowder two Ounces, Crown Soap half a Pound, Beef brine a Quart, if you cant get that take Salt half a Pound, Vitriol an Ounce and boil all these together, bath him with it all over, tye him up to the Rack before you begin, let him stand so 2 or 3 Hours, in a Day or two grease the Scabs with Hog's Laird, then bath him with the abovesaid Bath, two or three Days after the greasing.

To cure a Horse that is prick'd and gravel'd.

Search for the Wound and to the Bottom, wash it with Oyl of Tirpentine, or sharp Vinegar, then take white Pitch, pouring it boiling hot into the Wound, lay on some Hards, & set on him Shoe and ride him as soon as you please or where you please.

To cure a Horse that stumbles and has cut his Knee.

Take Olive Oyl, Marshmallow Ointment, Deer Suet each an Ounce, Verdigrease half an Ounce powder'd, make all these into a Salve and lay Plaster ways, then lay on some fine Hards and bind them on, dress it once a Day.

To cure a Horse that has the Flaps, he has loose Skin in the Corners of his Mouth, it hinders his Eating, and causes the Meas to fall out of his Mouth.

Take

Take a fine nail Rod and make a fine Hook and take hold of the loose Skin and cut it off with a Penknife.

To cure a Horse that wants bleeding which is known by his Head and Chaps swelling when his Head down and eating.

Put in a Rowel under his Jaws, then take Bay Leaves, Sprigs of Rosemary, Charity, of all a good handful, boil all these in a Pint of Spring Water, bath it hot and grease the Rowel.

To cure a Horse that has the Cholicke.

Take Spirit of Tirpentine an Ounce, sweet Fennelseeds one Ounce beaten, given in a Pint of warm Ale, keep moving him.

To cure a Horse that has the Pöle Evil.

When first it appears button him with red Dock Root dipt in Oyl of Vitriol, chafe it with Oyl of Amber; if it be broke lay upslackt Lime on it, when it has clear'd it, wash it out with little warm Chamber'y, take Stittlebag Oyl, red Lead mixt together, pour it in hot lay on Hard, put on a Hood to keep it dry.

To cure a Horse that has greased Heels.

When you first bring him into the Stable, scopril him under the Belly, and it will prevent his Heels greasing.

If broke out wash them with Ox Stale, then mix Alom white Lead, Verdigrease, Bolearmonick; in sharp Vinegar; make it liquid, or an Ointment and dress his Heels.

How to cure a Horse that has got the Staggers.

Bleed him well in the Tale, then button him in the Forehead with red Dock Root, then blow the Powder of Juniper Berries put in a Tobacco Pipe several Times op his Nostrils, keep him warm.

To cure a Horse that has gotten a Misfortune by bleeding in the Neck.

Take Gunpowder an Ounce, Tar one Pennyworth, mix 'em in a Quart of Chamberlye, Grease a Quatter of a Pound, boil all together, bath it boiling hot, then take a Wood Scure dip it in Oil of Vitriol, and then put it into the Wound.

Another. How to cure a Horse that is gargell'd.

Take Linseed Oyl, Vinegar, each twopenn orth, Soap twopennyworth, Chamberlye one Quart, a good Handful of Ashes of Ash Wood, 2 good handfuls of the inner Bark of Alder, all boil'd together, and bathed scalding hot every day untill the Swelling be watted, if the Swelling be large put in a little Alom.

Another. How to cure a Horse that has the Cholick.

Take one Ounce of Laudanum, half an Ounce of yellow Amber, half an Ounce of Venus Treacle, Sixpennyworth of Saffron, in a Pint of white Wine warm.

Another for the same.

Take a Piece of Cattle Soap as big as a Walnut dissolve it in a Quart of new Ale with some Parsley Seeds which is very good.

To cure a Horse that is greas'd.

Take a Pound and a half of white Vitriol, & as much Roach Allom, being boil'd in an earthen Pot till a third Part be watted, is as good a Remedy as can be invented for swollen Legs, Scratches, or the like.

To cure a Horse that has got a Surfeit.

Take Celandine, Groundfil, Arlegnals, each a Handful, treacle a Pound, Diapent half an Ounce, Flower of Brimstone one Pennyworth, Cowspice two Pennyworth, Tarr a Halfpennyworth, a little Butter, shred the Herbs, and make these up into Balls, give 3 Balls in a Morning whilest they be done.

Another excellent Receipt how to cure the Farcey in Horses.

After you have kept him slenderly fed all the Night give him the next Morning, fasting, half a Pint of the Juice of Houseleek, and half a Pint of Sallet Oyl mingled together, and then let him fast whilest Night, then give him Hay and no Water till next Morning Morning and that warm too, this Drink used twice will almost cure any Farcy, with the Ointment following.

Take Hellebore, and add to the Herb some of it's Juice then put to it old Boar's or Barrows Grease, and boil it till the juice be quite boild away in it, whereby to bring it to an Ointment, with which anoint the Knots or buttons of the Farcy, but shave or clip away the Hair before you do anoint it.

To cure a Horse that is venom'd inwardly or outwardly.

If he hath eaten any venomous Thing, give him the Juice of Sage Morning and Evening, in Wine or Ale; but if he be outwardly venom'd, bruise the Sage, and apply it to the griev'd Part twice a Day, and it will take out the Venom.

An excellent Bath for Horses, which is not on'y bruis'd or swell'd Cods, but for all Bruises in any Part of the Body from Head to Foot.

Take two Quarts of the strongest Ale you can get, then let it over the Fire in a large Skillet or Pipkin, and put to it 2 handfuls of the Rhind of black Berry Bush, and let it simmer away whilst it comes to a Quart, pour it forth and keep it for Use.

How you are to use it.

Bath the griev'd Part Night and Morning therewith pretty hot, and heat it in very well with a hot Iron, dip a linen cloth in the same, and bind it up hot, you must observe to peel off the Bark towards the Root (when you gather it) for that's best.

This is a very great Strengthenr of any weak Member, either by bruise strain, or Pain.

Things good in General for the Staggers, Headach, or Farcy.

Let Blood hang about his Neck, the Root of Amara Dulcis, take the Juice of Sow or Hog's Fennel squirted up his Nostrils.

Another.

After you have sharpened a small Oaken or Ashen Stick and slit at one End, (to keep it from running so far into his Head) put it into his Nostrils, and job it up and down to make him bleed freely. then take Aqua-vivæ and Garlick so much as will suffice, and stamp them together and put into his Ears; take a Lock of Wool and put some into each Ear upon the Ingredients to keep them in, then stich up his Ears with a Needle & Thred let him keep so 24 Hours then unstich 'em & pull out the wool.

To cure a dry Cough or rotten Lungs.

Take Elecampene, the Flower of Brimstone, Liquoris, fennel Seeds, Linseed, of each an Ounce, & clarify'd Honey a Pound.

To cure a Lask or Scouring in a Horse.

Take two or three Wild Brier balls, if they be not very great and beat them to Powder, and boil them in a Quart of Beer with a little of the Powder of bolearmonick, and give it to him blood warm, and it is a certain cure.

Another for the same.

Take the Entrails of a Pullet or a large Chicken, all but the Gizard and mix with them of Spikenard one Ounce, and make him swallow it, and this will infallibly stay his Scouring, yea, though it be bloody Flux.

Another which will stay a Lask be it never so violent.

Take a Pennyworth of Allom powdered, bolearmonick powder one Ounce, put them in a Quart of Milk, keeping them stirring till the Milk become all of a Curd give it him warm.

To cure a Horse that hath the Pestilence.

Take Devil bit, Gunpowder, Bistort or Snake Weed, Angelica, Bay berries, the Root of Meum, Elecampene, all beaten to fine Powder and give it to him two Mornings together, and order him as you do other such Horses, about three Ounces of all of them is enough, give him it in Ale warm.

Another

Another for the same.

Give him two Spoonfulls of Diapente, with one Pint of White Wine, or a Quart of Strong Beer sweeten'd with Treacle, and give it him. If you desire more Receipts, you may compound them as your Discretion will think fit.

An excellent Receipt for a Horses brittle Hoof.

Take one Pound of Hog's and Dog's Grease, and clarify with Rosemary, then mix it with half so much Cows Dung, and boil it up, and anoint his Feet with it either hot or cold, is good.

Another for the same.

Take Turpentine, Sheep's Suet, unwrought Wax and Hog's Grease, of each half a Pound, Sallet Oil half a Pint, and Dog's Grease a Pound, boil them altogether, and keep it in a Glass Pot for your Use, and when you use it anoint his Hoofs pretty well with it two or three Times a Day, especially at the setting on of the Hair, and to stop them with Cows Dung and Dog's Grease melted together.

To cure a Horse that has got a new Strain.

Take white Wine Vinegar, Bolcamonick, the White of eggs, and bean Flower, and having beaten them to a perfect Salve, lay it hot to the sore Place, and it will cure it.

Another for an old Strain.

Take Vinegar and butter, and melt them together with bran of Wheat, make it into a Pultice, and lay it as hot as may be, to the Place grieved, and it will take away the Grief.

How to cure a broken Winded Horse.

Take the Guts of a Hedgehog and dry them and beat them to Powder and give him two or three Spoonfulls thereof in a Pint of Wine or Strong Ale, then the rest mix with Anniseeds Liquor.

ris and sweet Butter, and make round Balls or Pills thereof and give him two or three after his Drink, and let him fast two or three Hours after, Water Agrimony is excellent good for it.

Another which is an excellent Cure.

Take the Leaves of Mullet, ~~as a Mullet~~, ~~as a Lungwort~~ and dry them, and make them into fine Powder, and make them up in Balls with ordinary Honey, the Benefit of a Pigeon's Egg, and give him three at a Time fourteen or fifteen Days together, or longer as you shall see cause, and let him not drink any cold Water during the Time, let his Exercise be moderate, and his Hay sprinkled with Water, and his Oats wet with good Ale or Beer, and shortly he will be well and sound again.

How to cure a Horse that has gotten the Glanders.

After you have purged him two Days before you do give him this Drink; take of Tanner's Oves new made, wherein never came Hides one Pint, of Saller Oil four Spoonfulls, two Heads of Garlick pilled and bruised, Featherfew and Celandine each one Handful chopp'd very small; Aniseeds, Liquoris and Bay Berries, all finely pulverized of each one Spoonfull, Boil all these together a little and give to him warm twice a Week fasting, & being thus four Times drench'd will be cured, it seldom fails

How to cure most Distempers incident to SWINE.

To cure the Murrain in Swine.

Take Murrain Grass, Wormwood, each halfe Handful shred Treacle a Quarter of a Pound, Madder powder halfe an ounce give 'em warm in a Quart of Milk cut a Piece off from his Tale, and rub him about.

To cure a Swine that is bitten with a mad Dog.

Take

Take white Flagg Root an Ounce, Bay berries, Briana, each powder'd half an Ounce, give it warm in a Quart of Milk.

To cure a Swine that has got a Surfeit by eating sower Draff.

Take 1 Ounce of Juniper Berries powder'd, briana Root powder'd each half an Ounce, Water Betony, Hylop each half a Handful, first give a little bur dock Root, boiled in a Glass of Water, give the other Ingredients in a Quart of Milk.

To cure a Swine that hath got a Cut or Tear.

Take Linseed Oil, Treacle, each a like Quantity, also some Chalk beat very fine, fresh butter, mix all these together, and anoint it warm on the Place grieved.

How to cure a Swine that is Gargell'd.

Take Soap, Tarr, Treacle, Hog's Laird boil'd all together, in Chamberlye, bath it on scalding hot.

How to cure a Swine which is Lousy.

Take Oil of Turpentine, and sharp Vinegar mixt together and chafe it on the back and between the Leggs.

To cure a Swine that has the Evil.

Take Juniper berries, briana Root powder'd each half ounce green broom Ashes one Spoonful, of Ground Ivy powdered one Spoonful, Hylop a small Handful shred, put all these in about a Quart of Milk give it warm, cut the Tail, First take a Bodkin make a Hole lengthways up the Tale within one Handful of his breech and put in a Helchore Pegg, serve both the Ears the same on the Inside about the Middle of them.

How to cure a Swine that has got the Measles.

Take balm. Waterbetony, each a Handful shred. Treacle one Quarter of a Pound, Saffron two Penniworth, boil these in one Quart of Milk, and give it warm.

To cure a Swine that is bit or torn much about the Mouth.

Take Soap and Salt next rub it well on the Wound, perhaps you're forced to cut off the Ear, rub the Wound with the same afterwards if the Gangreen be stopt, dress it with Treacle.

To cure a swine that has the Gullet is known by swelling under the throat.

Take Treacle half a Pound, Gunpowder half an Ounce beat, mix them together, pour it down his Throat pretty hot, cut a Hole in the Swelling, so big, as you may fit your Finger round between the Flesh and Skin then take Alder Leaves bruised, and dpt in Treacle then put it into the Wound.

To cure the Bite of a mad Dog in Man or Beast.

Take a little white Flagg Root, and boil it in a little Milk & give twice a Day.

How to stop Bleeding in any Creature either Man or Beast coming by Cut, Bite or Tear, by Sympathy.

Take the rustiest Bacon you can get and put little bits betwixt a Pair of tongs hotted, and let it drop into a convenient thing, take a Linen Cloth and get two or three drops of the blood & take a clean bright Knife, and spread some of the bacon Salve on the blooded Rag, air it against the Fire, tap it about the Knife-blade you spread it with, set it close in a Chest Corner so that it may not fall before, with the blade uppermost, if it fall, the the Wound will ranckle, you need do Nothing to the Wound

To cure Distempers incident to Beasts.

For a Beast that has the Skins.

TAKE one Ounce of Black Pepper, Brandy half a Jill, & Antemony three Ounces, Bolearmonick half an Ounce beat the Pepper, Antemony, and Bolearmonick; mix all together in a Pint of Ale, and give it warm.

For a Cow that abates of her Milk.

Take Smallage, Angelica, Wormwood, Tansegrafs, & a little Rosemary, shred them small, and put them into Threepennyworth of Ale, and give it warm.

For a Beast that has the Tallows outwardly; which is known by the Yellowness of the Ears; and a yellow Scurf arising at the Tale-End.

Take

(16)
Take of Tirmerrick one Ounce, Sweet Fennel Seeds half an Ounce powder'd, Celandine a Handfull, Barberry Bark, and of the Herb called Moufe Ear, each half a Handfull shred small, and give it warm in a Quart of Ale.

For a Beast that hath the Heeme Yellowe, which is known by the Eyes becoming yellow, and dimme: Their Gums will also be yellow.

Take Tirmerrick, Wickentide, Sweet Fennel Seeds, Liquoris powder'd, Smallage, Angelica, Wormwood, Barberry Bark, Mugg or Motherwort, Hyssop, Lavender, Rosemary, Waterbetony, Marygold Leaves, red Sage Leaves, white Nettle Leaves, and Balm Leaves, Ospin, Featherfew, of all these two Handfulls shred, give it warm in a Quart of strong Beer.

For a Beast that scales Blood, which is known by their dull Countenance, and their Ears hanging down.

Take Eleaspre powdered one Ounce, Rest Bacon half a Round shred small, put these into a Quart of new Milk, and give it warm; but if the Beast be pound, get a Pint of Spring Water, get some Burdock Root shred small, boil half and give it with the shovesaid.

For a Beast that has the Rising of the Lights; which may be known if they beate and work in their Bodies and pain themselves.

Take Featherfew, Mugg or Motherwort, unselt Hyssop, each of these a Handfull shred, Anniseeds an Ounce, Barberries an Ounce, and some of all sorts of Seeds that is good against wind bruised, and give them warm in a Pint and a half of Ale.

For a Beast that is troubled with the Overflowing of the Gall, which is known by the Eyes running, sitting up their Back, and setting all their Four Legs together.

(19)

The Cure.

Take Myrrh, Bay Berries, Anniseeds, Long Pepper, each half an Ounce powder'd, Comfrey one Pennyworth, Wormwood, Ashes a Spoonfull, Treacle a quarter of a Pound, mix 'em and give it warm in a Pint of Ale.

For a Beast that has the murrain; which is known by their slavering and groaning before it appears.

The Cure.

Take Madder, long Pepper, Bay Berries, each half an ounce, Tart a Spoonfull; but suppose you cannot get these, take Herbegrass, Murraingrass, and Wormwood, of all these a Handfull three small, boil them in a Pint of Chamberlain, and give it warm; half this for a Calf.

A Drink for the Murrain.

Take a Pennyworth of Treacle, a Halfpennyworth of Flower of Brimstone, a Spoonfull of Mustardseed, a Handful of Rice a Handfull of Murraingrass, half a Handfull of Hen's Dung, in Pint of old Urine, and some Ale, boil them together, and then put in the Treacle and Brimstone, sett her and Blood her.

For a Beast that gets a Hurt and runs of a Gargell.

The Cure.

Take a little Vinegar and Butter, bath it boiling hot, intime you may take one Pennyworth of Tar, as much Treacle, a little Pilgrim's Salve, mix all these together, take a few Flax Hards and dip them into the Salve putting them into the Wound; first searching it with a Tallow Candle.

To cure a Beast that hath a Houze.

Take Bearfoot, Savin Powder, each a Spoonfull, green Box a Handfull powder'd, put into half a Pint of Vinegar, mix these together, and Syrringe the Beast's Throat three Mornings together, the fourth Morning give it Liquorish, Diapent, Elecampene, each half Ounce, mix 'em in a Pint of Ale & give it warm.

Another for the same,

Take

Take Tar and Honey, each two good Spoonfulls dissolved in a Pint and a half of new Milk, give it warm in a Morning fasting, for two or three Mornings together, if he hath it very violently, but if not every other Morning will be enough.

To cure a Beast that has a Stub between his Claws or something breeds.
You must burn it with a hot Iron, then take Vitriol and Spike Oyls each a Spoonfull, do not mix them untill you use them, which is pouring it on the Wound well as possible, cast him first.

To cure a Beast that is lame in the Whirlbone.

Take white Pitch one Ounce, Turpentine half an Ounce, boyled together, then take a Knife and spread it on a Peice of strong Cloth and apply it hot to the Place greived.

To cure a Beast that is split in the Shoulder.

Take the Oyls of Linseed, Exeter and Peter each two Ounces Turpentine one Ounce, mix these together and chafe it in well.

To cure a Beast that has got a Bruise or Swelling.

Take of Rosemary, Bay Leaves, each a handfull, & Plantane Leaves two Handfulls, Spring Water two Quarts, then boil all these together for half an Hour, then put in twopennyworth of Train Oyl, bath it hot and heat it in with a hot Iron.

To cure a Beast or Calf that is lousy.

Take Stavesacie and Powder it, mix it with Vinegar, shake it in a little Bottle, rub it all on the Back, Neck, and Duclap.

To cure a Cow that has her Ox Road down.

Take of Laurus one Ounce, then warm a little Water and wash the Ox Road, then shake the Powder upon it, and put it up, but not stay, you must get three clean Garth Buckles, and fix them to her Barren to keep it up for some Time, and she will do well.

To
To cure a Beast that is lousy, take of Stavesacie and Powder it, mix it with Vinegar, shake it in a little Bottle, rub it all on the Back, Neck, and Duclap.

To cure a Beast that has a Consumption, which is known by his bringing of his Fleesh, and his Hair turning contrary.

Take of Bay Berries, Liquorish Powders each one Ounce, water Creases, Brooklime, Rosemary, Hyssop, Shreed, each a little Handfull, Honey and Treacle of each a Quarter of a Pound, mix these in three Pints of Ale, give it warm at twice, 2 Days between each Drink.

To cure a heated Beast, which is known by his refraining his Meat but drinking often, his Hair will turn contrary, and his Body girt.

Take Diapent an Ounce and a half, Marshmallows powder'd an Ounce, mix these together untill it will work into Bills with Honey, which must be three, then give them to the Beast and about a Pint of Spring Water after to wash them down, & then give him the following Drink in a day or two, which is this.

Take Bay Berries an Ounce, Briana half an Ounce, Bay Salt a quarter of a Pound, Featherfew, Elder: and Ivy Leaves of all a Handfull shred small, then put all these together into a Pint and a half of old Chamberlye, and give it warm.

How to dry a Cow.

Take Vinegar a Quart, Tar one Pennyworth, (but if she has a deal of Milk, Tar twopenniworth) put the Tar into the Vinegar, and heat it untill the Tar be dissolved, then give it to her warm and it will certainly dry her.

To cure a Beast that has got a Cold.

Take black Pepper half an Ounce powdered, of Treacle one Pound, Ale one Pint, give it warm, litter and cover him warm.

To cure a Beast that is gargel'd.

Take of the best Soap half a Pound, Gunpowder two Ounces
Tarr twopenniworth, Elder Leaves two Handfulls, Marshmallow Leaves one Handfull, Hog's Laird half a Pound, put them to three Quarts of Chamberlye, and boil them well together, then bath the grieved Place well all round, boiling hot with a Stick with some linnen or Hempin Raggs ty'd to it to bath it with; if you think proper to make a Wound do it where you think is the best Place, then take a Piece of reddy Bacon and tie some Woollen Yarn to it to turn it about in the Wound withal, if the Bath do not cure it at first bathing do it oftner, and if it be not too far gone before you begin it will certainly cure.

To cure a Beast that has the Wind Collick.

Take sweet Fennel Seed, Gumbouge each one Ounce, a little Burdock Root, Honey a quarter of a Pound, put it in a pint of Water, boil it half away, put in a Pint of Ale & give it warm.

To cure a Beast that has the Evil in the Joints.

Wash the Joints in Plantane Water, then take a rowelling Needle Point and make a whole under the Joint, into it put an Heleboe Pegg grease it untill it rots, then take Train, Linseed and Dill Oyls each a like Quantity and anoint the Joints.

To cure a Beast that is hurt in his Eye.

Take a blue Vitriol Stone, dissolve it in Honey with a little white Lead, make it into a Salve and put it into the Eye.

To cure a Beast that is troubled with the roaring Evil, which is known by their continual roaring

Take of the Herb Mull half a Handful, Featherfew, Tanigras each one Handful, Briana Root powdered an Ounce, sweet Fennel, Wormseed half an Ounce each; Juniper, Barberries, Liquorish powdered each half an Ounce, white Flagg Roots shred with the Herbs & put all into a Pint and half of Ale give 'em a gentle Boil, strain em out of the Liquor and give it warm.

To cure a Beast that has the cold F. Ion, which is known by the Body and Legs swelling and he will be sick.

Take

Take Bettony, Herbegrass, Wormwood, Cullenbine Leave each one Handful shred small, Hempseed Elecampane powder'd each half an Ounce, put these with a few fine Earth Moulds into something better than a Pint of Chamberlye given cold.

To cure a Beast that has the Gulse; which is known by blowing short his Eyes will run and swell very hard under his Jaws,

Take Bay berries, long Pepper, Madder all powdered, each half an Ounce, Treacle half a Pound, mix them together & give it pretty warm, first taking a Bull Pizzle and run it down his Throat, then cut a Hole or two in the griev'd Place, and put in Rusty Bacon ty'd with Woolen Yarn to turn it by.

To cure a Cow that has a bugg'd Bag,

Take Moonbright, Rosemary, Alder and Bay Leaves, best Soap, Hogg's Laird a quarter of a Pound, old Chamberlye two Quarts, boil all those together and bath the griev'd Place hot, and rub it well twice a Day.

To cure a Bull that is burnt.

Take Reach-Allom powdered fine and put into the sharpest Vinegar you can get and mix em together, let it stand a While, then take the bull and cast him as they do a Horse, drawing his hind Feet close up to his Neck, which is to make his Pizzle bolt the forwarder, then one Man must open the Passage of his Pizzle, and another Man must syringe the Liquid in, then work it well up and down and there will Cakes of blood come out then syringe again and work down towards the Cod, do this for several Days, and if it does not mend do it till it be well.

For a Cow that is burnt.

Is known by holding out her tail and paining herself as if she would stale, and will rott and pite in Halcs within her barren.

Take the same for her as the bull, but syringe her standing.

To cure a Beast that is Hoof-bound.

Rasp the Hoofs thin, then take Dog's and Hog's Grease and Goose Grease and Treacle each a like Quantity, with Cow's Dung Ashes made into an Ointment, rub it once a Day well over lap it up with a linnen or Hempin Cloth.

To cure a Beast that is Hoof-bound, Take Virtue, Reach Allom, each a little Quantity, dissolve

To cure a Beast that is Hidbound; which is known by his Hide or Skin sticking close to his Rebs.

Take a Quarter of a Peck of Barley, steep it three Days and three Nights in Water and then boil it and give it in the Broth one half one Day and the other half the Day after.

To cure a Beast that has the Skit.

Take an Ounce of Elexander powdered, give it in a Pint of Ale warm, it will stop any Beast whatsoever for a Time.

For a Cow which is known by divers Names, that has the Eyecalf, or Moon, or French Calf; which is known by her continual paining: of ten Times they cannot cast their Clause, looking heavy with their Eyes, and when down they cannot rise,

A Man must strip himself, and put his Hand up into her Calf Bag, where he will find fleshy Lumps which he must work off as close as he well can with two Fingers and a Thumb, pull 'em out, sometimes they'll have the Quantiry of half a Peck, sometimes more sometimes less, if she be weak give her a quarter of a Peck of Malt in a Mash and keep her in a warm House.

To cure a Calf that is spaved or gelt if it bleeds inwardly.

Take Hylop a Handfull, Lavender, Rosemary of each half a Handfull shred, Honey a Quarter of a Pound, boil all those in a Quart of new Milk and give them it warm.

Another Cure for a Beast that stales Blood.

Take Parceleypiert or Breakstone 2 handfull shred fine, Honey a quarter of a Pound, dissolve it in a Quart of Milk & give it so.

To cure a Cow that does not well of calving.

Tak Treacle a Quarter of a Pound, Saffron threepennyworth Liquoris Powder, Eldcampene, each half an Ounce, Anniseeds half an Ounce, powder them, mix all these in a Pint of Ale, & give it warm.

To cure a Beast that has the Canker in the Mouth.

Take Vitriol, Roach Allom, each a little Quantity, dissolve em in Vinegar wash the Mouth and Tongue with it where it is cankar'd

tanker'd, take a fine Ragg and tie it to a Stick to do it with.

Another for the same.

Take Roach Allom and burn it on a Piece of hot Iron, when cold powder it with Bolearmonick, the Black or Grime of brass Pot Bottom, mixt together, and anoint the grieved Places.

To cure a Beast that has the Tale Worm; which is known by the Tail being weak, about a Handfull above the Tail End.

Slit the Tale Skin untill you see the Worm; it is blueish in Colour, you may cut it or take it out with a sharp Bodkin then take Butter and Bolearmonick powder'd and mixt, spread on a Piece of Linnen, lap it round the Tale and sew it pretty fast.

To cure a Beast that has lost his Cud; which is known by slavering & gather Meat but will come out at the Corner of their Mouths.

Take a Crow's Cudd which you may find in the Time of the Year, on Hay Cocks, at other Times on Hay Stacks and Ant Hills, give it first, then take Milk and Wheatmeal to lythe it, Beanmeal, Elecampene, Linseed beaten mix'd together give it night and morning, for 10 Days, however untill it be well.

To cure a Beast that has Anberries.

Take Oil of Spike and dip in the Thread, tie it fast about the Anberry as near the Skin as you can, in about three Days Time you may cut them off below the Thread, and if they be great ones cut as before, but sear them with a hot Iron, for if they bleed on a fresh Place it will cause more to grow.

To cure a Beast that by travelling casts his Hoofs.

Wash his Foot very clean with warm Water and a linnen rag then take Hog's Laird, Treacle, and a little Tar mixt together, spreid it on a Linnen Cloth, bind it on with coarse Inele, dress it once a Day, the second Day take Soap and Salt mixt and lay it to the Sole of the Foot, and it will presently harden it, dress with the abovesaid on the Top of the Foot.

To cure a Beast that is swelled in his Body.

Take Anniseeds half an Ounce, Tirpentine an Ounce, Bay Leaves and Rosemary Leaves of each a Handful, Burdock Root half an Ounce, boill these together in a Quart of Spring Water, till half be wasted, give it warm and as oft as you see Occasion.

To

To cure a Beast that has the Barbs; which is known when they eat any Meat, it falls out at the Corner of their Mouths.

Look in their Mouths and you'll see some of their Barbs look black, bitt with their Teeth, take a pair of Scissors, and clipp all them off that are black and rub them with a little Sal.

To cure a Beast that is inclining to Giddiness which is known by the Dullness of their Eyes, and will be heavy about the Head.

To prevent it going farther,

Take Brimstone Flower and Juniper Berries powdered, mixt together blow it up their Nostrils with a Tobacco Pipe, 3 or 4 Mornings together it will cause his Nostrils to run very much.

To cure a Cow that has sore Paps.

Take the Fat of a Calf Trundle, Goose grease, green Ointment each of these a like Quantity, the Ointment is made thus, take Wormwood, Herbegrafs, Elder and Mallow Leaves each a like Quantity, a little Houssleek, bruise 'em well together and strain out the Juice make it into Ointment with May Butter.

To cure a Beast that spouts out his Tongue.

Take Elecampene, Liquoris powders, each half an Ounce, give it in a Pint of Ale, next Day give him a Drink of Smallage Angelica, Herbegrafs, Wormwood, of all a good Handfull in Threepennyworth of Beer.

To cure a Beast that has his Head hurt by being Kneebound.

If cut very deep Train Oyl, Treacle and chalk a little red Lead amongst it, anoint once a Day till it be well.

To cure a Cow that has her calf Bag come down.

Get a Pail full of Dishwashings, and with a Dishcloth, bath it untill it be natural warm, then take some Linseed and beat it fine and shake all over it, put it up, then take a Sack, in each End put a large flat Stone, and hang it over her Loynes, watch her that she keeps on Foot, for two or three Hours, but observe her afterwards and she will do well.

F I N I S .

any ook
lpp rbe

nixt or a h.

int-
us, h a nd

nce,
age
in red

ic
ch
ch
re